

MAJOR WALLER HERE WITH MARINES; WILL NOT DISCUSS COURT-MARTIAL.

Man Ordered to "Kill All in Samar Over Ten" Is Only Anxious to Get Home So His Children May Get a Sight of Him—Has Been Away Three Years.

Major Waller, the officer who executed the order of Gen. Smith for the extermination of "all insurgents over ten years of age" in the Philippines, arrived in New York this morning in command of 700 marines fresh from Manila.

The party came over the Pennsylvania Railroad from Washington, and went direct to the Brooklyn Navy-Yard.

The Major was in fine spirits, but declined to discuss his trial and acquittal by court-martial or the action which led up to the charges and trial.

While Major Waller was in Washington his wife visited him and remained with him during his halt of three hours at the capital.

Gen. Haywood, Commandant of Marines at Washington, also called on him and assured him of his satisfaction with his record in the Philippines.

Major Waller and his men embarked at Jersey City on the Navy Yard tug, the flags were hoisted on every top and staff in ships and buildings, and the Kearsarge band played the National Anthem while the men doffed their coverings to Old Glory.

Then the band made tears come in some eyes by playing "Home, Sweet Home."

The home-comers were then marched to the parade ground where Col. Meade received Major Waller, reviewed his command, and made a little speech of welcome, telling them they had served their country well and their country appreciated it.

Then he begged Major Waller off to his home, where he was received by a party of young women.

Talked After Breakfast.

After he had breakfasted Major Waller talked to the newspaper men. He was frank on every subject but the one his interviewers most wanted him to be frank about.

"With the exception of two or three who are suffering from the effects of want of food in the Philippines," said Major Waller, "my command is in fair shape, considering the hardship they have undergone. We lost twelve men by starvation and would have lost more had not our men been in such good physical condition when they went out to Manila."

"The men have been away nearly three years, some of them over three years, and of course they are glad to get back. They are turning in their accoutrements and will be mustered out as soon as possible. I am going to Washington to-night to report to headquarters and apply for a leave of absence."

Going to See Children.

"From Washington I shall hurry down to Norfolk to see my children. They have not had a sight of me for three years and I want to renew my acquaintance with them."

"I know you want me to talk about my court-martial, but you must appreciate my position. I am not allowed to talk until I have made my report to headquarters. Of course, a court-martial is not a pleasant experience to a man, especially when he gets it for the first time in his life, but you will have to excuse me from discussion of that matter at the present time."

SHERLOCK HOLMES GILLETTE BACK, BY WAY OF BOSTON.

Actor Came from London as "Walter Greene"—Sends Word to Reporter That He's Ill.

His! William Sherlock Holmes Gillette is in town. Got here this morning, went to the Plaza Hotel and sent down word that he is so seriously ill that he cannot see anybody.

Mr. Gillette's return from his London triumphs was very Sherlock Holmesy. In the first place, he came by way of Boston.

And he was known on board ship as Walter Greene. Let Old Dr. Watson, the outside man, explain.

Walter Greene engaged passage in London for Boston. But he couldn't sail.

Mr. Gillette bought the passage. And the name was not changed on the passenger list.

An Evening World reporter went to the Plaza Hotel this morning and asked for Mr. Gillette.

"Mr. Gillette has just gone out," said the clerk.

The reporter, being somewhat of a Sherlock Holmes himself, sent up his card anyhow.

Mr. Gillette sent back word that he was seriously ill.

"Has a physician been sent to Mr. Gillette's room?" asked the reporter.

"There hasn't been a physician to see anybody in the house to-day," replied the clerk.

It is not known whether Mr. Gillette brought back his profits from his London season, but it is not believed that he did.

Probably they are coming on a special ship.

WIDOW THREATENED HIM, SAYS BLUECOAT

Mrs. Davis Arraigned for Riding Bicycle Without a Lamp—"She's Been Punished Enough," Says Magistrate.

Mrs. Flora Davis, a widow, living at No. 349 West Eighty-fifth street, was arraigned in the West Side Court to-day, charged with riding a lampless bicycle last evening at Eighty-sixth street and Central Park West.

"I warned her two or three times to light her lamp," said Police Officer Nerney, "but she paid no attention to me. Then I rode around her and found that she had no lamp. Then I placed her under arrest."

Mrs. Davis, the policeman alleged, thereupon abused and threatened him, exclaiming: "If you knew who I am you wouldn't dare to arrest me."

Edmund Tinsdale, a lawyer, of No. 32 Nassau street, defended Mrs. Davis. After questions to bring out whether or not the moon was shining last night, the lawyer said to Nerney: "You are a fine specimen of an officer."

The Magistrate grew impatient. "It doesn't make any difference," he said, "whether there was any moon or not. Or whether or not there were other riders without lamps. The law was broken in this case, and that's enough. But I think the prisoner has been punished enough, so I'll discharge her."

OIL PAINTING SOLD.

Mrs. Hewitt's Picture Fetched $30 at Auction in Public Stores.

The sale of unclaimed and abandoned goods, begun on Tuesday, was concluded yesterday at the Public Stores, No. 64 Washington street.

A case containing 47 bottles of bay oil, appraised at $275, brought $175. Many of the smaller lots, however, sold for even more than the appraised values.

An oil painting, a portrait, consigned to Mrs. Cooper Hewitt, Newport, R. I., was sold for $30. The young man who purchased it refused to say whom he was buying it for.

BIG UPTOWN BUILDING.

Twelve-Story Structure to Go Up in Thirty-Second Street.

Plans have been filed at the Bureau of Building, Manhattan, for a twelve-story brick hotel to be erected on the north side of Thirty-second street, 200 feet east of Fifth Avenue.

J. Campbell and J. Clement, of Second avenue and Eighty-third street, Brooklyn, are the owners. Neville & Bagge, of No. 217 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, are the architects. The estimated cost is $350,000.

HONEYMOON LANE.

White Satin Ribbons on Trunk Told of a Wedding.

Tied four ways with white satin ribbon a trunk carried down Broadway from a cab from the Marlborough Hotel early last evening attracted much attention. Attached to the cab was a long string of old shoes and slippers.

In the cab were Dr. and Mrs. Walter C. Gilday, who were married in the parlors of the Marlborough at 6 o'clock P. M. and went to Washington for the honeymoon. Dr. Gilday is house physician at the Marlborough and Vendome. The bride was Mrs. Eleanor M. Foster, of Freshford, N. J.

FATALLY HURT IN A RUNAWAY.

Mrs. Dorsett's Skull Fractured When She Is Thrown Head Foremost Against Stone.

Mrs. R. Clarence Dorsett, of No. 53 West Seventieth street, is dying, the physicians think at the Presbyterian Hospital, as a result of injuries sustained in a runaway accident in the East Drive of Central Park. Mr. Dorsett, who is a lawyer, with offices at No. 25 Pine street, was with his wife and was also badly injured, but the doctors expect that he will recover.

Mrs. Dorsett has a fractured skull. Mr. Dorsett, who is also at the hospital, has injuries to his spine and many painful contusions.

Mrs. Dorsett was dashed headfirst against a stone in the roadway. Further on her husband, who had held to the reins despite the mad flight of the animal, finally was shot from the vehicle like a stone from a catapult.

Both Mrs. and Mr. Dorsett were taken to the hospital at once.

Mr. Dorsett is a lawyer at No. 25 Pine street and lives at No. 53 West Seventieth street. He and his wife left their home about 7 o'clock in a runaway. After a turn on Riverside Drive they started to make a round of Central Park before going home.

The horse had shown much speed, and several times Mr. Dorsett had difficulty in controlling the animal. They entered the park at Seventy-second street and the West Drive and made the round to the East Drive. About Ninety-eighth street the horse became fractious and at Ninety-seventh street Dorsett lost all control over him.

As the horse plunged down the crowded drive the excitement was intense. Mrs. Dorsett shrieked and tried to jump from the runaway, but her husband held her back. Drivers of other vehicles had difficulty in getting out of the way. Just above Ninety-eighth street the animal gave a lurch, and Mrs. Dorsett was thrown into the roadway, striking her head against a stone.

An auto cab, which was pulling up to one side, barely missed running over her. As it was, a wheel tore off her skirt. She was surrounded immediately by occupants of other vehicles and carried to the greensward at the side of the road.

Meantime the horse was plunging furiously up the road, and Dorsett was clinging to the seat, having lost his grip on the reins. At One Hundred and Sixth street the horse swerved to the side of the road, and the runaway was caught by a lampost between the front wheel and the body. The harness broke with the force of the sudden stop. While the animal sped up the road, Dorsett was thrown to the ground heavily.

The animal, free from the wagon, raced on to the cross drive at One Hundred and Sixty-sixth street, where it was stopped by a policeman.

When Dr. Van Ingen arrived at the place of the accident he found that Mrs. Dorsett had fainted from pain and shock.

YOUNG GRADUATES IN COURT

Became Enthusiastic in Broadway—Magistrate Let Them Go.

Harry Lencki, nineteen years old, of No. 305 East One Hundred and Forty-eighth street; Abraham Smolenski, nineteen, of No. 282 Third avenue; Meyer Bosker, eighteen, of No. 399 East Fifth street, and Harry Bernstein, twenty, of No. 337 Williams street, were arrested on Broadway early this morning.

They are graduates of the College of the City of New York, and last evening attended commencement exercises in the Metropolitan Opera House. They were uttering college "yells" when arrested.

When they were arraigned before Magistrate Mayo, in Jefferson Market Court, still in evening clothes, Lencki said that the arrest was an outrage. Magistrate Mayo told the college graduates that they should not let their enthusiasm disturb such a quiet and secluded neighborhood as the Tenderloin and discharged them all.

COFFEE SENSE.

To Drink, or Not to Drink, the Question.

A prominent St. Paul woman comments on coffee as follows:

"While I was drinking coffee I was troubled with sleeplessness and palpitation of the heart. I began to feel suspicious of coffee poison, and having no desire to drug myself, realized how inconsistent it was for me to continue the use of anything that helped to break me down, so I quit coffee and began using Postum Coffee."

"Now I sleep well and consequently feel refreshed and am much strengthened. Palpitation of the heart has ceased and altogether life seems worth living."

"Some of our family like a little coffee mixed in with the Postum; that, of course, is much healthier than the old-fashioned coffee alone."

It is true that very strong coffee of the best flavor has a little more fascinating taste to some palates than pure Postum. On the other hand, there are thousands of people that prefer the flavor of Postum pure and simple. If coffee agrees perfectly, there are no good reason why coffee should be discontinued unless there is a fear of disease finally setting up from the continued use of a drug.

On the other hand, if any member of a family is ailing in stomach, bowels, kidneys, eyes or the nervous system, such a one should immediately quit ordinary coffee and take Postum Food Coffee. A sure result can be depended upon and a gradual feeling of health and strength will come from the change. Health, of course, is worth almost everything on earth.

Some people are so constituted that it is hard for them to give up a habit even if good health is the reward, but it is perfectly easy to leave off coffee when one can have a well-boiled cup of Postum in its place.
